Feeding the Fire.

The most powerful engine must stop if the fire is not fed. Man is the most wonderful piece of machinery in the world, yet no matter how strong and well-made his bodily frame may be, if the fire of life within him is not constantly fed his limbs and muscles become powerless and useless.

The reason men become helpless and diseased is because the food they eat, which is the fuel of life, is not properly digested and appropriated by the stomach and nutritive organs. It is not completely transformed into the strength and working power which is to man what steam is to the engine.

That wonderful power-making "Golden Medical Discovery" invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., imbues the human digestive juices and blood-making glands with capacity to extract abundant nourishment from the food. It builds up organic tissue, nerve fiber, hard muscular flesh and working force. It gives a man a steam engine.

What it did for Mr. F. S. Hughes, of Junction, Hunterdon Co., N. J., is given in his own words. He writes: "I received your kind letter, and in reply would say that mine was a bad case of kidney and liver trouble, and that six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and four bottles of Little's Peppermint Cure effected a complete cure. It is well known that almost every engineer is troubled more or less with kidney trouble, especially on our fast express trains. I run one hundred and forty-four miles on these trains every day in the week, and have had no return of the trouble since taking the remedies, nearly three years ago."

Peculiarities of the Japanese Bath.

To their credit, be it said, Japs are regular whippers at bathing, and usually when not drinking tea are bathing. Their only trouble in life seems to be their inability to enjoy both these delights at the same time. If some American trick swimmer could teach the Japs how to swallow tea out of a bottle while under water, they would build a tin temple round him, burn incense made of old rags and bones under his nose and worship him.

Public baths are numerous in which "mixed bathing" was practiced until lately, but now a bamboo fence separates the sexes, though it does not screen them from view, the fence being only two feet high in bathhouses in the interior of Japan. Some homes have a wooden bathtub, circular shape, with a stove built in one end, which heats the water. The whole family, beginning with the father, bathe in the same water. Sometimes women "tub" themselves and their children outside their doors in the streets where sidewalks should be. The first time a foreigner falls over one of these bathing parties and into the arms of the bather he feels the situation is unique, but by the time he has tumbled over half a dozen he tires of the fun, rubs his shins and makes some very uncompromising comment, while the polite little woman underneath squeaks out, "Sayonara" (Sir, please call again), etc.—Baltimore Sun.

What the Mouth Tells.

A certain philosopher declares that a woman is known by her mouth, not by the words that issue therefrom, but by the shape and color of the lips and the lines and dimples that gather about this important feature. He is supported in his theory by physiologists, who all endeavor to prove that no woman with the small, red lippled "Cupid bow" mouth, so praised in song and story, was ever intellectual or generous of heart, and it is consoling to those whose mouths are not in accordance with the lines of beauty laid down by the poets to be told that a "wide, straight mouth, with strong, white teeth," denotes the woman of superior intelligence, goodness of heart, strength of mind and a thousand and one other sterling qualities which one likes to think she possesses.

It is the fashion at present for women to hold their lips slightly apart. This is supposed to give that innocent, wistful, wondering expression which was the peculiar property of the heroines of old fashioned novels, but which bicycle riding and kindred modern amusements have caused to vanish. It is difficult for the thin lippled, determined woman to acquire this trick, but perseverance works wonders. —Baltimore Herald.

Unappreciated.

The teacher of a district school in Maine tells a story that reminds me of Mary and her little lamb, only it is of Joe and his little dog.

Joe was a boy about 8 years old and was devoted to a small, lank puppy. Out of school hours boy and dog were inseparable, and Joe apparently could not reconcile himself to the necessity of leaving the dog at home. For several mornings the teacher allowed the puppy to remain at Joe's feet under the desk.

Then there came a day when the small dog could not be kept quiet, but frisked about to the delight of the school and the dismay of the teacher. "Joe," she said firmly, "you must take that dog out."

Joe looked at her mournfully, but picked up the pup and, with its head against his cheek, started for the door. The boy's feelings were evidently hurt, but he said nothing until he reached the door; then, giving his teacher a reproachful look, with a plying glance toward his dog, he said slowly, "And he's named for you!"—Youth's Companion.

A little sugar taken with water, not too cold, in case food is not obtainable, will relieve any feeling of exhaustion and sharp hunger.

SIBERIA'S BIG GOLD CROP.

Large Quantities of It Smuggled Out of the Country.

In spite of the most stringent Russian laws on the subject—the taking away of gold without government consent—there is an enormous business done all over Siberia in gold, both dust and, especially, nuggets stolen from the workings. It is a criminal offense to be found in possession of gold; but as so large a proportion of the population of Siberia consists of those sent there for punishment, and the only further punishment they have to fear is deportation to some yet more distant region of the same barren and joyless land, the deterrent is by no means so formidable as a mere perusal of the awful menaces of the statutes at first sight seems to convey. Moreover, the successful dealer in stolen gold rarely fails to escape the penalties of his offense, even when caught redhanded.

The Russian official, even in Russia proper, is seldom altogether unreasonable; and in Siberia, where the pregnant saying of the dishonest "chinnovnik," "It's a long way to Peter"—that is, St. Petersburg—is especially significant, the official is "good natured" in the extreme, and a substitute can always be bought to accept unpleasant responsibilities.

A great part of the gold is conveyed over the Chinese frontier—that is, across the river Amur, which is the sole defense of the frontier against smuggling from both sides—and finds a ready sale at ruinous sacrifices in exchange for a certain fiery Chinese vodka. The valuable properties of this spirit, much esteemed by Russian and native alike, are that it gives the customer the benediction of intoxication one day, and on the next he can attain the same exalted state by the cheap expedient of drinking water.—Chambers' Journal.

She Silenced Greeley.

Horace Greeley once had a discussion with an advocate of women's suffrage shortly before the American civil war. He was using as his final argument the inability of women to fight. "What would you do, for instance," he asked his friend, "in the event of war?"

"Just what you would do, Mr. Greeley," she replied promptly. "I should stay in an office and write articles urging other people to go and fight."

Measuring Time.

Just when the day became divided into hours is not known, nor is the process explained. The Greeks and Romans measured time by the water glass and the sun dials. The hourglass, filled with sand, was the outgrowth of these vessels, from which the water dripped through tiny openings.

If a pair of herrings could be left to breed and multiply undisturbed for a period of 20 years, they would yield an amount of fish equal in bulk to the globe on which we live.

THE ROBERTS CASE.

The probability is that not half of the so-called moral reformers who have gone into fits over the case of Congressman Roberts of Utah, know what they are protesting against. If they would only restrain themselves as to permit of deliberate investigation and sober judgment, they would be forced to the conclusion that the member from Zion is not the moral leper that he is represented and that there is really very little ground upon which to base an argument for his expulsion.

It is true that Roberts has three wives, but it is not claimed that he married any of them since the enactment by Congress of the anti-polygamy law, and if he did not, he is not a violator of any federal statute. He is supporting his three wives, undoubtedly, but he would be deserving the condemnation of all decent and humane people if he did not. Having taken them in marriage before polygamy was made a crime, he is not a criminal. He is a Mormon, to be sure, but he has as much right to his religious belief as any other citizen of the republic, and Congress has set up no religious standards for the guidance of its members. It matters not to the House of Representatives whether its members are Catholics, Baptists, Methodists, Mormons or Atheists, so long as they are law abiding citizens of the republic and duly elected and qualified as representatives of the people.

Roberts was elected by an overwhelming majority of the votes of his fellow citizens. He probably received as many or more Gentile votes than Mormon, for, as a matter of fact, he was opposed by some of the highest dignitaries of the Church of Latter Day Saints. There is no flaw in his title to his seat in Congress. He can be expelled by a two-thirds majority if he is a criminal, but there is no proof that he is such, and it is reasonable to suppose that he will be permitted to occupy his seat.

It is not a violation of law to be a Mormon, and it is not law violation to support three wives, if they were taken in wedlock before polygamy was made a crime. As a matter of law and justice he should have been sworn in with the others and the investigation made afterwards, and a vote taken upon his retention or expulsion. The refusal of the House to permit him to be sworn in was a clear case of judgment, without a particle of evidence to sustain the arbitrary act. But, notwithstanding this mistake, Congress, we are confident, will not be deterred from doing its plain duty by the hysterics of sentimentalists, or by the clamor of religious intolerants.

A DEAD GIVE-AWAY.

Secretary Gage has for the second time come to the relief of the banks by anticipating, without debate, the interest due January 1st on bonds registered and 4 per cent coupons and consols of 1897. In other words the Secretary pays $25,000,000 more than half a month before it is due.

This was to avert a panic in the institutions which the Republican party would intrust solely with the financial affairs of the nation. If the leading banks are so shaky that they require governmental aid to enable them to meet their obligations, where does the boasted plentitude of money come in, which is cited as indisputable evidence of McKinley's prosperity? There is unquestionably a larger amount of money stored in the treasury vaults, which has been wrong from the people by the most oppressive system of taxation that was ever invented or enforced and it is used to maintain the apparent but deceptive solvency of the banks which but for their source of supply, the treasury vaults, as the Secretary acknowledges, would go to the wall under the present dearth of money in their coffers.

These repeated call for anticipated payments are conclusive evidence that the plentitude of money in the country for business purposes is as transparent a sham as was the Republican pretension of friendship for bimetalism in their national convention of 1896.

It is reported that Senator Stewart has asserted that silver should not be made a ruling plank in the next national convention. Whether he means the Democratic or Republican is not stated. The JOURNAL has always contended that when it came to a test "Silver Bill" would find some pretext to tumble over to the goldbug side of his lord and master—the Southern Pacific railroad corporation. So, to us, it is not the unexpected that has happened.

THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER.

The contest for the Democratic nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives could not have been more earnest and animated if it had carried with it the election. But the honor is not an empty one for it involves the Democratic, or rather the entire opposition leadership on the floor of the House, which is of the greatest importance to the parties so closely divided as they are in the present Congress.

Mr. Richardson of Tennessee, who was chosen on the fifth or sixth ballot over DeArmond, Bankhead and Sulzer, was the logical candidate for he is not only the senior of the four in point of service, but he is concededly the best parliamentary man in the House. While the other aspirants were men of eminent ability, Mr. Richardson possesses all of the qualities which ought to be combined in a successful leader in a great legislative body. He can be relied upon to bring out the full influence of a harmonious and aggressive minority party on all political issues, and to gain every possible parliamentary advantage.

While the Republican party in the House will undoubtedly carry through all the legislation ordered by the bosses, the opposition will give a good account of itself under the able leadership of Mr. Richardson of Tennessee.

The Dutch are still making themselves extremely disagreeable to the British in the Transvaal. Yesterday's dispatches indicate that the tasks of the Boers are more effect in battle than the horns of the Bull.

PERSONALS.

Lem Allen is seriously ill in California and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

A Slight Accident.

While working at a forge in his father's blacksmith shop, on Fifth and Sierra streets, last evening a piece of steel hit Leo Bancel on the left arm and cut a vein. But for the presence of mind of Officer Leeper, who happened to be present, the young man would have bled to death before the arrival of a physician. Mr. Leeper stopped the flow of blood by fastening a cord around the arm above the wound.

Drs. Bergstein and Pioniger dressed the arm, and the young man will experience no inconvenience except weakness from loss of blood.

Gazoo's Telegraph Service.

The San Francisco morning papers arriving here on the evening flyer invariably contain later war news than that published in the evening specimen of McKinley's prosperity. The evening paper is supposed to print the news twelve hours ahead of the papers arriving here at night; instead it is twelve hours behind. You mean all right, but you won't do, Allen.

District Court.

In the absence of Judge Currier, Judge Mack held a session of the district court yesterday. The following cases were heard:

Al White vs. Emma Boynton—Set aside deed; default set aside.

Leets vs. Evans—Jury waived; case set for Dec. 28, 1899.

Callahan vs. McLane—Jury waived; set for Dec. 27th.

In 1840 old Early Days.

Travelling to Chicago is a favorite topic of the early settlers, and many pleasing anecdotes are told of those long and weary, though oftentimes hilarious, trips. It always required a week, and sometimes longer, to make the journey. Twenty or thirty hungry teamsters stopping at a rude country tavern overnight sometimes made it interesting for the landlord. Fifty cents for supper, breakfast and lodging, with all the whisky one could drink and free hay for the horses, was the uniform price for entertainment in the early days, and the average teamster usually intended to get the worth of his money before he settled his hotel bill.—Stillwater Valley (Ill.) Graphic.

The Son's Answer.

After his son's great success with the "Dame aux Camelias," Alexandre Dumas wrote to him as though a stranger, congratulating him on the book, and expressing a desire to make the author's acquaintance. "I myself am a literary man," said he, in conclusion, "and you may have heard my name as the author of 'Monte-Christo.'"

Dumas felt was equal to the occasion. He wrote immediately in reply, expressing the great pleasure he would have in making his correspondent's acquaintance, principally on account of the high terms in which he had always heard his father speak of the author of "Monte-Christo."—Rival.

Waste of Water.

Occasionally the typical Pat has a brilliant afterthought; sometimes it is not so luminous as he fancies.

"Are you going to move the well, sort?" inquired a man of all work, whose employer had announced his intention of building a new house in a new and more convenient spot.

"No," answered the gentleman briefly, his mind full of his own plans. "Now that was a foolish question for me to be asking, sort," said Pat, after a few moments' reflection. "Sure, and why didn't I think? Av course, ivery drop of water would run out and go to waste whiles you were moving it! It's nothing but a blundering goose I am!"

A SUGGESTION.

A Plea for the Observance of the Sabbath.

As citizens of Reno we can but regard with pride our material growth and advancement. But there is that which means more than beautiful dwellings and successful business enterprises, and in that we fear we are not, if we may judge by what frequently appears on the surface, making the growth we should make. This is a question of vital importance in the presence of so many bright, active young people, who are daily moulding character, by that with which they come in contact. We refer especially to some of the manifestations of disregard for the Sabbath, and the law that protects the rights of the citizen to enjoy the quiet and rest of that day.

General Statutes of Nevada 4,849, Sec. 1: No person shall keep open any play house or theater, race ground cockpit, or play at any game of chance for gain, or engage in any noisy amusement on the first day of the week, commonly called the Lord's Day.

We may for a time have seeming prosperity with our business houses open and our streets and grounds filled with noisy games upon the Sabbath, but it will be only seeming. We shall not only suffer an irreparable loss to the physical man, which demands rest one day in seven, but we shall also suffer a demoralization of character that will bring a harvest of lawlessness and crime. We need not reiterate what the men and women who have helped to build nations have said. Take the morning newspaper of a no distant city and read it there—divorce, suicide, murder, theft, drunkenness and the whole catalogue of crimes. The fruits of a license to do as you please without regard to your own well being or the well being of your neighbor. "The seed will grow from what you sow." Is human life so cheap and are dollars so precious that there is no time for Sabbath rest? Are the six days of the week so full of toil that there is no time for recreation? Why not have a concert of action that shall agreeably bring about the closing of business houses of every character upon the Sabbath, and that shall give a half holiday on some one of the commonly recognized secular days of the week.

Yours for a cheerful, restful Sabbath. LUCY M. VAN DYKENTON.

My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Sometime ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. My foot was swollen and paining very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For Sale by Wm, Pinniger, Druggist.

FREE DELIVERY

IS INAUGURATED

The System Working Smoothly to the Satisfaction of all Concerned.

The free delivery system is now in effect in Reno. The carriers, Messrs. Loofbourrow and Parlin entered upon their duties yesterday morning, and the work was carried through with promptness.

Reno has long been in need of a carrier system and it is proving a great convenience to residents who are situated a distance from the postoffice. Postmaster Krause gave a JOURNAL scribe all information as to the time of delivery, etc.

The carriers' first duty commences at 5:30 in the morning, at which time they gather up all letters and papers deposited in the boxes during the night. At 8 o'clock a delivery of the letters to the business houses of the town is made. Again at 9 there is a general delivery at which time the carriers will distribute all letters received on the morning train. In the afternoon another delivery is made, and again in the evening after the arrival of the flyer, the carriers distribute the mail to the business houses.

Reno is divided into two districts. District No. 1 is in charge of C. H. Parlin, and comprises all the territory south of the S. P. railroad track.

All employees of the postoffice with the exception of the postmaster are under civil service rules and their positions are permanent so long as they attend to their duties.

With the postmaster it is different. He is called upon for contributions to support his political party and must produce or lose favor with the administration. At the end of four years in the event that his party is defeated, he is thrown on the mercies of the cold and heartless world.

Trinity Church—Third Advent Sunday. Morning prayer and sermon at 11. Rev. James Eddie officiating. Processional, "Sing All Ye Faithful"; hymns 39, 331. Recessional, "Christ, Whose Glory Fills." Sunday school at 12:30. There will be no evening service.

Send in Your Exhibit.

Secretary Maxson of the Nevada Paris Commission has left a packing box at the office of F. H. Norcross, who is gathering a collection of ores from the Peavine district. He has quite a collection but if any one has mines in that district who wish to send samples to Paris they can do so by leaving them at Mr. Norcross' office at once with instructions.

The Nevada exhibit has assumed such proportions at Carson that the Commission have had to rent another large store room where the exhibits are being classified and the entire collection will be shipped before the end of this month.

Stock Shipments.

An unusual amount of stock has been shipped out of Reno during the past few days.

On Friday thirty-four car loads of "holiday stock" was shipped to California.

Yesterday 18 carloads of sheep and 6 carloads of cattle were consigned to the Bay city. On account of the continued scarcity of cars it is feared that several hundred head of stock that have been consigned to California butchers for the holiday trade cannot be shipped in time to fill the order.

New S. P. Sign Boards.

The Southern Pacific company has added a great improvement to the old sign boards that have been in use on the road for a number of years past. Heretofore they only gave the distance to San Francisco, which was a great inconvenience to people traveling east. Now the distance from Ogden is added. Workmen were at work placing the new sign on the depot yesterday.

The distance to Ogden is 589 1-10 miles; to San Francisco 244 3-10; elevation, 4,966 feet.

Lunar Eclipse.

The moon's eclipse as announced in yesterday morning's JOURNAL came off as advertised. When she first appeared in the twilight gloaming pale Cynthia, although nearly at her full, showed less than half her proportions which in the course of an hour had dwindled down to a crescent scarcely larger than an Indian's bow. She soon thereafter began to enlarge until about seven o'clock when she was shining again with the brilliant radiance of her natural luster.

Nevada's Basket-ballers May Not Play the Intercollegiate Games.

The fair co-eds of the University here were thrown into a flurry last evening after reading the city papers. The Examiner contained a column article in regard to basket ball at the Stanford University, saying that the faculty of the University at Palo Alto had forbidden inter-collegiate basket ball.

Arrangements were about completed to bring the Californians to Reno to play some time in the near future. The members of the Nevada team were making preparations to begin active training immediately after the opening of school next month. The California coach who was with the team last year has been engaged and all plans to put a strong team in the field are well under way.

To think that the girls' cherished hopes are not to be realized casts gloom throughout the cottage.

A JOURNAL reporter called up the girls' cottage by telephone with hopes of securing some information in regard to their intentions. President Stubbs answered the call but refused to talk on the matter beyond saying that the report published was perhaps exaggerated and that the team still has some hope of bringing the California team here.

The reason given by the California faculty for issuing the edict is that the players are subjected to great physical strain and that basketball instead of benefitting, injures their health. However, the players do not hold that belief. We republish what a couple of the Stanford girls said:

"There will be no interest taken in class games when there is no chance for an outside contest, and as for tennis, how will we have intercollegiate tennis except by the 'leniency' of some other faculty in permitting its girls to do just what they prohibit us doing." "For my part," said another player, "I have never found the strain so great but that I could play and continue healthy."

"I don't believe that this is their real objection," added a third girl. "Their decree is on account of our playing out of doors, and if that be true they have certainly had sufficient representation at the games to pass judgment."

Announcement.

I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is rivited, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

ALFRED NELSON.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Suit for Labor.

Justice Linn yesterday rendered judgment for $19 in favor of plaintiff in the suit of Julien Ferant vs. Geo. A. Booth. Mr. Ferant had brought suit to recover $20.70, said to be due for labor performed for defendant on the school house at Wadsworth.

Haydon & Maestretti represented the plaintiff and Benjamin Orlier acted for the defense.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mother. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

Religious Faith Dependant Upon the Will.

Rev. G. H. Jones, will try to show that faith in God, providence, belief in prayer and in the incarnation of Christ is dependant upon the will. That any man who wants to believe in these things has the power to do so. The sermon will be preached to-morrow night in the Methodist church.
